Test Games for the Big Four Teams Today.

TIGERS TO MEET CADETS

Harvard Fears the Indians and Penn Has Lafayette to Tackle.

THE VIRGINIANS PLAY HERE

Georgetown Ready and Good Contest Expected-Racing at Aqueduct and Pimlico-Bowling.

The last test of the season for the big elevens, prior to the actual championship will occur today, and a very se will be for most of them. The game at West Point is the most onclusively what the Tigers are likely to do against Yale one week hence. The do against Yale one week hence. The Tigers expect to win, but the game will probably be very close and perhaps will be won by a single score.

Harvard plays the Indians at Cambridge, a game looked forward to with considerable trepidation by the Crimson coaches, but with the full Cambridge eleven once more in the field Harvard should win beyond all question. It is Harvard's enterior with the property of the prop more in the field Harvard should win beyond all question. It is Harvard's opportunity to show what her offense can do, while her defense will be severely tried by the versatility of the Indian attack. The Carlisle team is especially strong at the kicking game and doubtless will try to force those tactics on Reid's team. If they succeed, the Indians ought to make a good showing. There are big chances for scoring through misplays in handling kicks, especially when an alert team like the Indians, ready in following the ball, is on the field.

Yale plays Brown, but the disposition is to regard the game as a foregone conclusion on the assumption that Brown's good work against Harvard was due to the presence of so many Crimson substitutes. Penn plays Lafayette, a game that looked like an-other defeat for the Quakers until the re-cent brace taken by the Red and Blue. It may develop into a defeat yet. Annapolis plays Swarthmore and the chances favor the middles getting another licking.

In the west an important game is played by Minnesota and Chicago, the only real test game that is scheduled there for this fall. Dartmouth plays Amherst and Williams meets Wesleyan, chances appearing to favor Amherst and Williams. The other games are unimportant comparatively. The schedule for the day is as follows:

Georgetown vs. Virginia, at Georgetown. Gallaudet vs. Mount Washington, at Bal-

Philadelphia Central vs. Washington Cen-tral, at National Park. Princeton vs. West Point. Harvard vs. Carlisle Indians.

Yale vs. Brown.
Pennsylvania vs. Lafayette.
Annapolis vs. Swarthmore.

Tigers Journey to West Point. PRINCETON, N. J., November 10 .- The eton team yesterday afternoon its last practice before the West Point game. Only a light signal drill was in-dulged in, and the coaches devoted their efforts to perfecting the team work. The up in secret practice were all gone over very carefully, and the coaches seemed pleased with the result. It is practically certain Harian will do the punting against the army. Herring and Phillips will start the army. Herring and Philips will start the game at center and left tackle, alter-nating on the offense and defense. The team left Princeton this morning at 9:30 on a special car. The following men were taken: Capt. H. Dillon, Herring. Stanard, Hoagland, Daub, Phillips, Wister, Cooney, Phalagrain Martin Larger, Cameron Wer-Rheinstein, Martin, Larson, Cameron, Warden, Shaw, E. A. Dillon, Tenney, Harlan, Tibbot, McCormick, Lulon, Miller, Cass, Little, Moore and Dowd.

Shift in Yale's Rush Line.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., November 10 .- On the eve of the Brown game, which closes Yale's schedule, excepting her Harvard and Princeton battles, it leaked out that the coaches have made a radical shift in the coaches have made a radical shift in the rush line. The change brings Forbes and Biglow. Yale's two greatest stars of the rush line, together. Capt. Morse put his men through a five-minute secret scrim-mage yesterday afternoon to work out some of the most effective new plays, but they were not run off smoothly. The 'var-sity failed to score and were ordered out for secret gymnesium practice in the for secret gymnasium practice in signal re-hearsal last evening. Yale's eleven as se-lected last night will be the same as lined up against West Point. The officials will be: Referee, Dr. Carl Williams; umpire, ex-Capt. Indians Are Confident.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 10.-Harvard will face the Carlisle Indians today on Soldiers' Field in the most important game of the year to be played at Cambridge. The Indians arrived in Boston yesterday morn-ing, the players and coaches declaring that on a dry field they expected to lower the Crimson colors, a feat that the Indians have never yet accomplished. red men held an hour's secret practice at the American League base ball grounds yesterday afternoon. Harvard also held a yesterday atternoon. Harvard also need a long secret signal practice, after which Coach Reid announced the line-up of the team, which will be the strongest that Har-vard has sent on the field this year. It has been decided to play Parker at center, although he has been out of the game for three weeks. The teams will line up as fol-and the greater part of the afternoon was devoted to signal practice and catching punts. Lawrence was the choice for quarterback today. Near the end of practice the coaches, with four of the 'Varsity substitutes, lined up against the 'Varsity for a short scrimmage. The 'Varsity made several first downs, but no attempt was made to score. Lawrence got off several end runs which were rather spectacular. Dwyer was at center and will play in that position against Lafayette today. Gaston played at right tackle instead of Lavery. Coach Torrey said that while the team was not up to the form that he would like to see, the work of the past week has shown improvement and Pennsylvania's chances of winning will be much better than against the Indians.

games of the season developed, the former coming out the winner by a small margin in the scoring—34 to 28. A large crowd was in attendance, and enough excitement was furnished to keep the people on their toes throughout the contest. Sannino, Reges and Thompson each played an excellent game for the winners, while Barker and Loftus carried off the playing honors for the losers.

Foot Ball Notes.

Coach Fred Folsom of Dartmouth says of the Tigers: "They are eleven of the shiftiest men I ever saw on a foot ball nual game with Dartmouth. The betting is all one way since the Providence eleven's showing against Harvard, and Dartmouth's fall at Princeton.

Michigan undergraduates have drawn lots to see who will be the lucky ones to get into the $1,000 pool that started at Pennsylvania.

Little Old Man of the Cheyenne Tribe, who is left guard on Carlisle, said when he first observed foot ball: "Him all right for me; pretty big game."

Burnham, one of the best ends at Harvard, is out of the game for the rest of the season because of another injury to his shoulder.

A favorite attack this year is a tandem on the tackles, heading the tandem with an end. Both Yale and West Point use it frequently.

West Point's task this season, the hardest of any eleven, is far from over. After tackling Princeton today, the soldiers will meet the husky Bucknell eleven a week from today. Then, before they play their greatest rivals, the middles, they will face

The worries of the captaincy seem to have injured Morse's playing abilities. He is plainly not up to his old form, either on offense or defense.

Five Colgate players were summarily ruled off the field at Williams. One slugged and the others used offensive language.

ged and the others used offensive language.
Chicago has seventy distinct players—
count 'em—seventy—many of them brand new, and Eckersall has them all in working order. Coach "Hurry Up" Yost of Michigan will see Lafayette play Pennsylvania in Phila-delphia today. Lafayette is Yost's old college.

The Carlisle Indians, including a delega-tion of Indian maidens, have accepted an invitation to attend the performance of "Mamselle Sallie" at the Boston Theater tonight. "Pooch" Donovan, Harvard's trainer, says that injuries this year are much lighter than in past seasons. There are fewer broken bones and major incidents.

After Outlaw Players. WILLIAMSPORT, November 10 .- Major league managers are endeavoring to make inroads into the ranks of the Williamsport Tri-State team, and several members of the "Millionaires" have been approached by big league managers. Since ex-Manager Sebring signed his Chicago contract Manager Chance of the nationals has been trying to get both Blair and Charles.

Chance of the nationals has been trying to get both Blair and Charles.

Thus far efforts in this direction have been unsuccessful, and the two players have appended their names to Williamsport contracts. Blair has been made a flattering offer and does not know whether he will accept. Charles has had a material raise in salary to remain with the local nine and will, in all probability, be seen in a Williamsport uniform next year. The Chicagos carry three catchers, and two are used regularly.

George Washington Foot Ballists Surprised by Baltimore Meds.

The Baltimore Medical College team, which was substituted to play the George Washington team in place of Washington and Lee yesterday afternoon, at Van Ness Park, played the local team to a standstill by holding them down to a score of 0 to 0 in two twenty-minute halves.

The strength of the Baltimore team surprised the locals, as the Oriole team had that he went up in the betting from 8 to 5 to played but one game this season, and have the line averaged fully 190 pounds, and was like a stone wall when the locals tried a line plunge. On the other hand, the visitors went through the line for good gains, but lost on the end runs, as the local ends were very fast, and got the man on nearly every

Beard, Gunning, Lorando and Sutton played a fine game for the locals. For the visitors, Schakowitz, at left end, was the star, his tackling was the best seen on the local field for some time, and his falling on punts was all to the good. The game opened with the Baltimore team kicking to Sutton, who ran the ball back thirty yards before being downed. Beard went through right tackle for two yards. Steenerson tried a quarter-back run around right end and made four yards. Steenerson punted thirty yards and George Washington recovered the ball on the fifteen-yard line. On the next two downs they made six yards, but Steenerson was thrown back for a loss of five yards on an attempted quarter-back run, and the ball went to the visitors. After two downs, in which the Orioles gained but three yards, they punted to Sutton, who came back twenty-five yards. Beard was called and went around right end for twenty yards. Steenerson tried a drop kick, but the ball went on the outside of the posts. Baltimore Medical punted from the twenty-fivemore Medical punted from the twenty-five-yard line to Beard, who ran it back ten yards. On an off-side play, the locals were penalized five yards. Gunning received the ball on a double pass and gained twenty yards. Sutton tried a drop kick, but it fell short. Baltimore Medical punted again from the twenty-five-yard line, and Lorando ran the ball back ten yards. Licarione made three yards through right tackle. On an attempted double pass George Washington fumbled and Schakowitz fell on the ball. On the next play the locals were penalized five yards for off-side play. On the next downs the visitors carried the ball blocked. Schakowitz was again on the ball, and the Orioles tried two downs when another placement kick was tried, but the locals blocked it. Schakowitz again fell on Gunning fot into the bunch and fell on the pigskin. Sutton was thrown back on the first down for a loss of ten yards. He then punted forty yards. Shortly after time was called for the first half with the visitors called for the first half with the visitors in possession of the ball.

Sutton kicked off in the second half, Wigging receiving the ball and running back ten yards. After two downs with but short gains the visitors punted to Sutton. The locals soon punted, and on the first down Beard got through and threw the runner back for a loss of ten yards. The visitors punted and Sutton received the ball. He immediately punted fifty yards. The Orioles returned the punt thirty yards. After a series of exchanges of punts and several short gains by the locals on end runs, the game ended with the ball in the center of the field and in possession of the visitors. The line-up:

ATHLETE WON

NEW YORK, November 10. Although four favorites were unable to come home n front at Aqueduct yesterday, the ring had a pretty hard time of it breaking beter than even because of the support accorded to all the successful horses. The Roslyn handicap, for three-year-olds, one mile and a sixteenth, was a peculiar affair both from a betting and a racing standpoint. Cressina, the logical favorite, receded in the odds to 7 to 5, while both Hot Toddy and Rye went back from 21/2 each to 6 and 5 respectively. The educated money helped to back Athlete from 6 down to 9 to 2, while Orilene was also lowered to 9 to 2, while Orilene was also lowered to 5. Miller cut out the pace with Hot Toddy, who carried top weight and backed up when Athlete challenged at the last sixteenth pole. Athlete was an easy winner by two and a half lengths, with Hot Toddy four lengths in front of Cressina, who ran a dead looking race, as did Rye and Orilene. The time was 1:45:2-5.

The two-year-old Tourenne, 5 to 2 was third, eight lengths back.

> Gallop for Ormonde's Right. John Boden's Ormonde's Right, 6 to 1, galloped off with the second race, for platers, at a mile, passing the judges four lengths in front of Varietes, reduced from 6 to 4, with Yada, another good thing, played from 10 to 8, third, three lengths away. Sir Ralph, 5 to 2 favorite, could not raise a gallop. The mile was turned in

In a hot finish Jack Bennet's Molesey, 6 to 5 favorite, won the third race, for twoyear-olds, seven furlongs, by half a length from Beauclere, 11 to 5, who got off poorly but closed a big gap in the run home. Acrobat, 10 to 1, who had early speed, was third, a length back. The time was 1:27 1-5.

ATLANTIC CITY'S GOLF TOURNEY

Lafferty and Horstman Lost and Johnson Only Washingtonian to Win.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., November 10 .-'Never again will the Atlantic City Country Club attempt to provide for more than four or five sixteens at match play," said one of the officers of that organization last night. The policy here has been to extend the glad hand to all comers, but with six sixteens in the field yesterday the limit of hurry and congestion was reached, although all had a good time. As sets were arranged the odd spectacle was presented of ninetysix men at match play on the edge of the semi-finals in the main contests. As on Thursday, it was play yesterday from shortly after daybreak until pitch dark. Whatever the results of the semi-finals New York will be represented in the final, as Arden M. Robbins of Garden City and James G. Batterson of Fox Hills are in the upper end of the draw, and will oppose each other this morning. On the other end are W. E. Shackleford, the Atlantic City crack, and H. G. Legg, the student who has easily proved the best of the Lawrenceville pre-

Lafferty Put Out.

The chief interest yesterday afternoon was in the two matches at the top of the draw. In both the New Yorkers won. Arden Robbins beat Hugo Johnstone of Boston, the Myopia crack, and James G. Batterson defeated G. C. Lafferty of Washingterson deteated G. C. Lafferty of Washington, the Chevy Chase expert, both by only 1 up. The winners had to work for what they got; there was little difference between victor and vanquished. Robbins got the first hole from Johnstone and then their match was squared on the fourth green. From that point to the turn Johnstone did not win a hole, haiving two, while Robbins took three which left him. took three, which left him 3 up at the turn. He had gone out in 40, against bogie 42, undoubtedly the best nine holes so far in the tournament, excepting his morning round, which was also in 40 on the first half. Forty is a close shows on the control of the con half. Forty is a close shave on par. Gain-ing a little overconfidence at that point, he found Johnstone close at his heels and took only one hole in the next six, five of which went to his opponent. In some alarm Rob-bins then pulled himself together and halved the last three holes, saving his ba-con by the narrowest possible lead. Cards:

The Batterson-Lafferty match was close but without spectacular or noteworthy features. At the end of the fifth hole Batterson was three up, but he died away un-til the contest was squared on the twelfth and again on the sixteenth putting green. At no time, however, was the New Yorker down. Batterson got the seventeenth by the better putt and then halved the home hole. It was a putt, too, that won the day he made an 80. He got the first three holes

On the fifth Shack-leford struck one of his putting fevers and banged several balls into the cup from dis-tances almost at the edges of the greens.
